

Ancient Technology and Knowledge

Because of the saturation in the teaching of "millions of years" in our culture the resulting "Evolutionary Mindset" causes us to consider those who came before us as less intelligent. The farther back we go, the less intelligent we consider people to have been. But if we are to take God's Word on the matter, it is reasonable to conclude the opposite. The first people who existed must have been perhaps the most intelligent and degeneration in intelligence has occurred since. The great advantage we have today is not intelligence, but accumulation of knowledge.

Consider what has been discovered about the accomplishments of ancient cultures:
