Verse 1

Walking in the garden, man was God's best friend
But pride caused a division; it's one result of sin.
The separated distance if God seems far away
Is caused by our unwillingness to let Him take His place

Chorus

The distance is deception, you will see some day.
End of all confusion, you will see some day.

Verse 2

The start of situation, long before today
A lack of understanding; justice gone astray
The evil you have wrestled began before your birth
When the pride is put away, a healing will emerge

Chorus

All things will be straightened, you will see some day.
Justice will be given, you will see some day.

Verse 3

Our pride and our rebellion; a wall of empty space
God sent a redeemer, the choice is ours to make
The rich and poor together; a judgment hall awaits
Good or bad, there's just one way to enter through the gates.

Choruses

The distance is deception, you will see some day.
End of all confusion, you will see some day.

All things will be straightened, you will see some day.
Justice will be given, you will see some day.

Jesus is returning, you will see some day.
The brightness of His glory, you will see some day.
