I met someone who gave to me
twelve most pleasant days.
She came along mysteriously,
but now she's gone away.

The many things I heard her say,
I did not understand.
Blind to the Happiness that we had,
I am alone again.

The memories are sweet, even still.
For the moments that we shared were filled with pleasant extasy mixed with tender care.

I learned one thing of great import about how I should live.
Enjoy the moments while they last;
It's all there ever is.

Don't worry 'bout the future or dwell on the past;
Now is all there is.
